Community associations can be the hub for community life. They provide that small town feel in our large urban centre.

#1

Accessibility

Memberships range from only $10-30 dollars annually and can include discounts to local businesses and services!

Your membership fee supports the many programs your community association offers you.

Community associations have the ability to bring residents together creating a friendly and safe place to live, work, and play.

#2

Recreational Opportunities

Enjoy hockey, karate, soccer, yoga, or tennis right in your neighbourhood. These are just some of the many programs community associations offer.

In your community there are endless opportunities right in your backyard. Be part of it!

#3

Civic Participation

Have your voice heard about changes in your community.

Community associations respond in countless ways to the needs of their residents on social, environmental, and civic issues.

Community associations can mobilize their residents on a variety of community topics like traffic, safety, and planning.
