

String Lighting Ideas

String lights use a soft, warm glow to define boundaries and make any area feel more inviting and cozy. They are also easy to move and reinstall in different community spaces.

Add to railings or fences or other potential hazards to add lighting and increase visibility.

Use lights to create a shared community space anywhere.

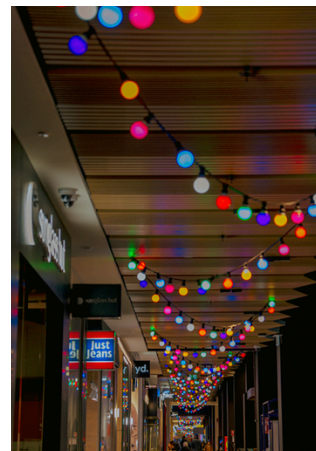

Use lights to mark paths or wayfinding.

String lights around popular community spaces, such as gazebos or community gardens.

Hang lights around the hall to create mood lighting for special events.

Make your booth or table to stand out at community events.

Decorate for festive occasions.
